

Message from the Board 1954

As the twig is bent, so groweth the tree. To the youth of today is presented a great challenge, considering youth's vigor, untried strength, and latent talent. Fifty years ago man dreamed of soaring like an eagle, and today large cargoes are transported through space at a rapidly increasing speed. So it is with youth, the possibilities are unlimited. The school's responsibility is not to underrate to exploit the mind of youth, but to impregnate with the world of truth. Christ, our example, gave his life in sacrificial service for others and as a result, exerted the greatest influence on the world that has yet been felt. The union of the mind of man with the Spirit of God is a combination that is invincible. Persecution cannot eradicate, false doctrine cannot confuse, secularism cannot destroy, if one is wholly consecrated to God. Will youth rise to the occasion and demonstrate to the world that the Church of Christ is marching on?
